How do I interact with delegates visiting my booth?

All booths have the built-in chat functionality to interact with visitors. Exhibitors with a Gold package can also live video conference with visitors directly on the platform. The platform will generate the video link for you. Simply click 'Info Session' to start a meeting.

Alternatively, if you'd prefer to use your own video conferencing software, you can enter your own meeting URL in the Booth Configurator. Enter 'My Booth', select 'Options', check the 'Info Session' box, and enter your URL in the space provided.

As an exhibitor, can I attend other sessions at the festival?

Absolutely! The event has been designed to be flexible for both delegates and exhibitors to drop in and out throughout the day. We have a range of networking sessions, masterclasses, and keynote speeches for you to attend. You can view the agenda and enter each virtual zone, including our World Café and Main Auditorium, via the Event Zoo dashboard.

What happens if someone visits my booth while I am away?

Delegates will still be able to interact with and access the materials at your booth. If a visitor sends you a message while you are away, our doorbell system will alert you, so be sure to keep your sound on. You also have the ability to reschedule times to connect with visitors if you are busy. Ideally you should be at the stand during the core hours of the exhibition.

What are the core hours for the exhibiting?

Most delegates will visit the exhibition during the breaks between sessions. These core hours are when the booths will experience the most (virtual) footfall, so it's advisable to man your stand during these times. It also gives you the opportunity to maximise your exhibiting time whilst still having the flexibility to attend sessions.

Do I need to keep my booth open in my browser throughout the event?

We recommend keeping your booth chat window open in your browser so that you can connect with visitors quickly and efficiently. However, if the chat window is not open when a visitor sends a message, you will still receive a doorbell audio alert.

Who do I contact if something goes wrong?

We hope your time at ExSE will go off without a hitch. But, if you have any questions during the event or need further support, get in touch here: info@bestgrowthhub.org.uk
